ALL SORTS.

The candidates have already begun to rustle.

All kinds of new summer goods at Joe Platt's.

Another insurrection has broken out in Venezuela.

There was a lively fist fight in the street last evening.

China seems to have made no preparations for her war with Japan.

The Van Dyke studio in New York was destroyed by fire Monday.

The Jackson polar expedition has sailed northward from Archangle, Russia.

A large crowd of Carson sports and some Carson horses will attend the Reno Fair.

The editor of the APPEAL thinks he has the biggest field of corn in Ormsby county.

Queen Liliuokalani's envoys to President Cleveland have met with a cold frost in Washington.

Frank Folsom and the present incumbent are both candidates for Sheriff on the Silver ticket.

The race track needs considerable fixing up if the horsemen have any idea of racing on it this fall.

No one can say that the Japs and Chinese are not regular finish fighters when they get started.

Sheriff Kinney has finished the work of walling up the ditch that runs past the main school house.

Whenever the American Yacht gets a good wind, she walks away from her English competitor completely.

M. H. Maher, an ice cutter from Truckee, was run over and killed by a freight train at Sacramento Saturday night.

The Indians of Ormsby county are keeping track of the big war and are recommending the Cannamen to go home and fight.

A number of people were seriously injured by a panic caused by a fire in the grand stand of the Chicago ball grounds Sunday.

The work of shingling the school house is going on rapidly. It is an improvement, with painting the old building will look like new.

The Nevada building at the Mid-winter Fair which cost $6000 is offered for sale for $250, but there are no takers. It is worth that for fire-wood.

The races here this fall should be well attended as the horses will come from the counties of California that admit this district and are nearly the same as local.

It is stated that President Cleveland's family, now summering at Grey Gables, is guarded by detectives as it is feared that an attempt will be made to kidnap baby Ruth.

A picnic wagon in which there were twenty persons was thrown from a bridge near St. Clairville, Ohio, yesterday by an electric car. Eight of the passengers were seriously wounded and the others were more or less hurt.

Two years ago 67 per cent of the electors of Nevada voted against the Wall street combination; this year they should make it unanimous and let the people of the East know that they mean what they say when they declare for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

Corbett is still bluffing around the country trying to make the public think he is anxious to fight Jackson. No one will believe much in Corbett until he really gets into the ring. As for Jackson he is always ready to get into the ring with anybody and everyone believes his sincerity.

Peaches are selling at the rate of 25 for a nickel in San Francisco. In this city they are a cent a piece, or more. This is because of the big express charges put on fruit by the Wells & Fargo monopoly, a corporation that pays less taxes in this State in proportion to its income than any company doing business here.

Mrs. Lena E. Desmond O'Neil, a pretty young woman of Butte, Montana has long enjoyed the notoriety of having two husbands. Yesterday the first husband who is known as Humphrey Desmond, returned home after a long absence and carried off the woman and her child, after standing the second husband, E. G. O'Neil, off with a pistol. Mrs. Desmond was formerly Miss Uhl, she was raised at Empire.

NEVADA'S FLAMING TREE.

A Story of Another Curiosity of the Sagebrush State.

"Every one has heard of luminous plants and shrubs," said Ernest F. Gould of Hamilton, Nev., but comparatively few people are aware of the existence in our State of a luminous tree of large proportions.

"The Indians have always entertained a wholesome dread of this tree and have a number of legends connected with it, some of which are clearly founded on the biblical story of Moses and the burning bush. As a result of their superstition the tree has come to be known as the 'witch tree,' and is quite a source of interest among people for miles around.

"It is a valuable landmark at night as it can be seen half a mile away, and the phosphorescent substance which exudes from it is so powerful that it is possible to read a few words of print held close to it. Several botanists have made journeys to inspect and report on this tree, but I have never seen a really intelligent explanation of the phenomenon."—Ontario Record.

It seems such a great pity that the luminous tree of Nevada which was once such a curiosity near Wells, Station was cut down. About two years ago it was cut down for firewood by a party of campers. It shows no trace of luminosity in the day time, hence they could not be blamed for it. Parties who have since examined the stump of the tree say that it is still luminous and full of phosphorus. The explanation they make of it is that it grows over a phosphorous deposit and the mineral is absorbed by the tree. In other words they say it was nothing more than a cottonwood tree phosphorized.

Toughs of the 400.

The San Francisco News Letter is waging a war on the bad manners of San Francisco society. It claims that the members of the 400 are all ill bred, hoggish, selfish and ignorant. This is exactly what they are and when the fashionables of San Francisco start in to make a holy show of themselves in public they succeed.

The writer recalls an instance where, about two dozen fashionable people of San Francisco reached a Lake Tahoe resort late one evening, and loudly demanded supper. The landlady apologized for the meagre repast on the grounds of not expecting guests after 9 o'clock at night.

The party sat down and spent an hour abusing the food. They then emptied their salt-cellars into the sugar, poured syrup on the table cloth, smashed dishes and furniture and acted as a drove of pigs in the dining hall.

These people were much worse behaved than any gang of cowboys ever thought of being, yet each week their names are paraded in the newspapers as shining lights of fashionable resorts, where they sport their loud jewelry, fill the air with cheap slang, and outrage every sense of decency and good breeding. It was the San Francisco Argonaut that said that San Francisco society could always be depended on to act the hog whenever it got its feet in the trough.

Corn Booming

Chicago, Aug. 7.—There was wild excitement on the Board of Trade today owing to the unchecked drouth in the corn belt. Corn shot up to a dizzy gait, carrying wheat with it. Before 10 o'clock corn had gone up seven cents in long and sensational jumps, and wheat had struggled up two and one half cents, despite strong bearish influences. After most urgent shorts had covered, the strain ceased somewhat and corn fell back to a slight advance over yesterday's closing price.

New York, Aug. 7.—The corn market started out with a two cent jump over last night, and it increased in a few moments to 5½. Excitement during the advance was intense. The corn ring was crowded with brokers trying to cover short contracts.

All There.

In another column is printed all the bills allowed by the board of County Commissioners. The public can rest assured they are all there and some are not purposely omitted to humbug the tax payers, as they used to be before the APPEAL got the printing contract.

Go to Golden's for your spectacles eyeglasses and optical goods, and all kinds of repairing at bottom prices. m24

The Striker's Trial.

Woodland, Cal., Aug. 7.—The morning session of the examination of the accused train wreckers was without interesting incident. The prosecution continued to introduce testimony of employees of the S. P. who testified to having seen strikers disable trains in the yards at Sacramento, and other incidents of the strike.

ROSS.

Truth About the Strike.

President Gompers of the Federation of Labor has an able article in the August "North American Review" and "Federationist" concerning the Pullman and A. R. U. strike. It reviews the cause and justifies the strikers. Every man whose capital consists of brains and muscles, and who aims at an honest living, should read these articles. It costs just half as much as a cigar and does not "end in smoke."
